Summary

The researchers purposely conducted this study in order to determine the perceptions and self-esteem level of the college students on hazing in JHCSC-Domingag and Dapiwak Campus, School Year 2018.

This study involved 40 fraternity members and pledgee and/or neophytes in the organization.

The researchers employed the descriptive-survey method through Questionnaire-checklist as the main instrument in gathering the needed data and information. Weighted Average Mean was the statistical techniques used to interpret the data.

The result of the study revealed that many of the respondents were 18-20 years old, full-fledge fraternity members.

Moreover, the fraternity member-participants had "Favorable" perceptions, while the non-member-participants had "Very Unfavorable" perceptions toward hazing. In addition, the self-esteem level of both fraternity members and non-member fraternity-participants was In "Average level.

The results further disclosed that there was a significant difference on the perceptions of member and non-member of fraternity regarding hazing, and there was no significant difference on the self-esteem level of member and non-members of fraternity.

Finally, the study recommends that the school may strengthen the club activities and sports development program divert students from joining fraternity; that the
